ZOO ATLANTA CELL RECYCLING PROGRAM

Zoo Atlanta and The Dian Fossey Gorilla Fund International are working together with Eco-Cell to recycle cell phones, help the environment and raise money for gorilla conservation.

Coltan is a critical component of cell phones and other small electronics..

As a result of mining for coltan, critical habitat has been destroyed and gorillas have been displaced.

COLTAN

One of the few places in the world where coltan is found is the forests of the eastern Democratic Republic of Congo-right in the middle of gorilla habitat.

THE GORILLA CONNECTION

WHEN YOU RECYCLE

The reuse of cell phones results in the need for fewer new ones, which in turn reduces the need for coltan mining.

Most cell phones will be refurbished and

Donations to The Dian Fossey Gorilla Fund

resold to first-time, low-income users in areas outside the US. International will help further their work to protect gorillas.

Visit us at zooatlanta.org/cell_recycling and join Call4Gorillas and collect for your group.

GORILLA FUND[®] INTERNATIONAL

