

Seed Spreaders of Zoo Atlanta

1. Elephants eat several hundred pounds of food a day, and poop several _____ pounds.
2. Rhinos are essential to the health of their _____ ecosystems.
3. Zebras are _____ grazers, cutting through old plant growth with sharp teeth.
4. Pancake tortoises wedge between rocks to _____ predators.
5. Find Exhibit 35, and the name of the iguana will get you closer to solving this mystery.
6. A special name for animals like lemurs that only eat fruit.
7. Gorillas give back to the forest by providing fertilized seed _____ to the forest floor.
8. The blue-throated macaw, once thought to be _____ was rediscovered in 1992.
9. The white stork uses its long, sharp _____ to forage for fish and insects.
10. White storks are found in grassland and _____ habitats.
- A. frugivore
- B. hundred
- C. packets
- D. grassland
- E. bill
- F. pioneer
- G. Jamaican
- H. escape
- I. extinct
- J. wetland