

SEED SPREADERS OF ZOO ATLANTA

1. Elephants eat several hundred pounds of food a day, and poop several B pounds.
A. frugivore
2. Rhinos are essential to the health of their D ecosystems.
B. hundred
3. Zebras are F grazers, cutting through old plant growth with sharp teeth.
C. packets
4. Pancake tortoises wedge between rocks to H predators.
D. grassland
5. Find Exhibit 35, and the name of the iguana will get you closer to solving this mystery. G
E. bill
6. A special name for animals like lemurs that only eat fruit. A
F. pioneer
7. Gorillas give back to the forest by providing fertilized seed C to the forest floor.
G. Jamaican
8. The blue-throated macaw, once thought to be I was rediscovered in 1992.
H. escape
9. The white stork uses its long, sharp E to forage for fish and insects.
I. extinct
10. White storks are found in grassland and J habitats.
J. wetland

